THE MEXICAN SITUATIION

Conditions Reach State Where They Are Intollerable

WELL INFORMED MAN

Gives His Opinion Based On Over a Quarter of a Century Intimate Acquaintance With Mexico

Probably no American is better qualified to express an opinion on the Mexican situation than is Allen T. Byrd, of Nogales, Arizona. Mr. Byrd knows Western Mexico and the Mexican people as does few Americans. In a recent editorial in the Oasis, Mr. Byrd says:

"The attitude of President Wilson is receiving no little criticism and censure. But it is too early yet to predict where his policy will land his administration. Should Huerta yield, call an election, and with the inauguration of the successful candidate in the Mexican presidency, with a complete acquiescence by all concerned, and a complete restoration of peace, the Wilson program would be hailed all over the world as a triumph of American diplomacy. But unless it should turn out that way, the President will be apt to lose credit and prestige.

The admonition of President Wilson for all Americans to get out from Mexico, leaving there all possessions, is looked upon with no little disgust by all who have a clear understanding of affairs in that unfortunate country; but by the peace at any price people it is considered with favor, and accepted as wise and statesmanlike. However, to those who believe that a nation should have dignity in the face of imposition upon its citizens in a foreign land, and should guard the interests of its people with considerate jealousy, the policy followed by the American government at this time is contemplated with grief and sorrow. All such feel that while there is no call for threats or bluster, a calm, dispassionate enunciation of an intention of the American government to protect American interests abroad, demanding and enforcing reparation for all loss of life or damage to property of Americans, would have saved hundreds of valuable lives, and many millions of dollars worth of property. Under the present condition of affairs, every ignorant Mexican bandit or peon believes that the United States fears Mexico, and dares not protect its citizens; and all such, embracing about 75 per cent of the entire population of Mexico, many of them high in authority, consider Americans and their interests as legitimate prey. The pity of it all is that our administrators at Washington do not realize that they are dealing with a nation the great mass of whom can be ruled and governed by fear alone, and who appreciate nothing so well as a mailed hand. Unless they are made to fear those who are dealing with them they think they are feared; and like all of that class of minds the belief that they are feared makes them brutal towards those who fear them, or whom they think fear them. That is why the peace policy of the Taft and Wilson administrations at Washington has borne so great a burden of loss of American lives and property.

In Sonora there has arisen a new danger, and that is that the Yaquis, who have been the mainstay of the constituional movement against Huerta, have arisen against the state, and are threatening trouble for everybody. They threaten occupation of all the Yaqui delta, where there are located many Americans and where many millions of American money have been invested, all to be lost. With their defection the state government cannot make headway against the invasion by federal arms; and when the latter are triumphant over the state forces, the problem of handling the Yaquis will be one far greater to solve than is now that of forcing the state into line.

The depreciation of Mexican money is a problem for commercial interests along the border, and there seems no remedy. The Mexican bank notes, which constitute a great part of the circulating medium, are practically irredeemable at present. Nobody wants them, and nearly all who take them, do so under protest, while in nearly all places of business they have been rated at 40 cents gold on the dollar. Yet one or two stores in Nogales, Arizona, display signs that Mexican money will be taken without discount. And now another complication in the financial system is threatened. The state of Sonora is about to issue paper money, a decree to that effect having been promulgated, and the date for its issue set for September 15th. But it is reported that there has been so much objection that the state government hesitates. Following a well known law of economics when that currency is issued all other forms of money will disappear, and the commerce of the state would be put upon an irredeemable paper basis, similar to that which prevailed in the Confederate States during the civil war, and in the United States in the Revolutionary War, when prices went soaring, a pair of boots costing several hundred dollars, and other comomdities in proportion.

The tendency of the best forms of money to disappear in the face of an inferior emission has been manifested in the exportation from Mexico of their gold and silver coins, which the government has endeavored to stop by a decree of prohibition. That brought out a protest from business men, who represented that they had to use coin for meeting their foreign invoices. It is reported that the state government has arranged to sell exchange upon American banks to all needing coin to meet foreign invoices, upon presentation of such invoices at the financial offices of the state.

KEYNOTE TO THE TUNE

Mr. Editor: The letter of Mr. Cushing in your paper of September 3, giving as his grounds for coming over to the support of the proposition to incur a city indebtedness for the acquisition by purchase and construction by the city of an adequate system for the service of the public in Tropico with water, on the ground of his "confidence in the trustees" to handle the matter wisely and well, together with your expression in an editorial comment to the same effect, strikes the keynote of the grand tune we should all march to. It cannot be expected that we should have entire and absolute agreement as to the details of the proposed undertaking. The amount required for its prosecution is estimated to be from $60,000 to $80,000. I am in favor of voting bonds for the highest figure of the stimate; and of leaving the application of their money proceeds to such use by the Board of Trustees as in their judgment is necessary and wise to secure the public in Tropico an adequate and efficient water service system. Whether this or that expenditure should be made "is a stream they can cross when they get to it." If it should turn out that there is not a need for all the bonds authorized it does not follow that the excess of what is needed will be issued, simply because they will not be, and the entire system will cost the city no more than it has to. The law is that whenever the legislative branch of any city shall determine by ordinance that the public interest or necessity demands the acquisition, construction, or completion of any municipal waterworks, the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of such city, such legislative body shall submit a proposition to incur an indebtedness therefor to a vote of the people, specifying in the ordinance that the purpose of the indebtedness is the acquisition of waterworks, the necessity therefor, and the estimated cost of the same.

Does any one doubt Tropico's necessity for adequate waterworks? The fact is every one is impatient for an opportunity to vote an indebtedness for them.

N. C. BURCH

SOME GLENDALE NOTES.

Forty-six permits were issued in Glendale during the month of August, with a total valuation of $63,600.00.

The Glendale Consolidated Water Company has served notice on the street superintendent of Glendale that he must not attach any more fire plugs to the company's mains. He was also informed by the manager of the company that the company had decided to install new mains on West Broadway, as desired by the trustees.

Believing that all bids received for the improvement of Canyada boulevard in Glendale too high, City Engineer Lynch has recommended that all bids be rejected, and that new bids be called for, to be opened September 15th.

Mr. L. C. Brand, for the Title Guarantee & Trust Company, has notified the committee having in charge the water investigation that he is willing to meet the citizens of Glendale half way in any proposition tending to clear up the water trouble, and frankly admits that he is desirous of selling the water company and gives as a reason for such desire that he wishes to retire from active business as soon as he can get relieved of his present responsibilities.

SULZER AND TAMMANY.

A special Washington correspondent of the Sentinel says:

The country has been shocked at the audacity of Charles F. Murphy, the notorious and infamous leader of Tammany Hall in going up to Albany and virtually kicking Governor Sulzer out of the executive mansion. It is not believed that the courts will sustain the impeachment, because no legislature has the right to impeach an official except for acts committed while in office and Sulzer is being impeached for acts committed before he became governor. Sulzer is not being impeached for being a bad governor, but is being impeached because he is a good governor and would not appoint Tammany crooks to good offices, and he has also refused to pardon Tammany murderers who are awaiting death sentences. This is why Tammany wants Sulzer kicked out of office. Is New York going to stand for it and hang her head in shame?

CARNIVAL OF ALL NATIONS.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club is to give a Carnival of All Nations Friday, September 19th, from 4 to 11 p. m. The lawns of Mesdames Mattison B. Jones, John Robert White, Jr., and W. E. Evans are to be used.

Some of the special features consist of a Baby Show, in charge of Mrs. E. D. Goode; Greek dances by Miss Grace Hussey..

A Dutch dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7:00 p. m.

A concert program will be given from 8:00 to 9:00 p. m. the same being in charge of Frs. Freeman Kelley and Mrs. Frederick Baker, and a grand pageant showing the costumes of all nations, Mrs. M. J. Tight in charge, will be given during the evening, and a prize will be awarded for the best costume.

Committees have been appointed and the ladies are looking forward to a successful event. The chairmen of the various committees are: Advertising, Mrs. E. H. Willisford; Lighting, Mrs. J. W. NEW SHOE STORE.

Glendale's shoe trade is now augmented by the opening on Saturday, Sept. 13, of a first-class up-to-date shoe shop with all accessories. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. MacNeill, who value the friendship of a host of people in Los Angeles, Tropico and Glendale, have leased the west room in the Westboro Block on West Broadway, and will on Saturday open the doors to the public as the MacNeill Shoe Store. Only after due consideration and the advise of their many friends were they persuaded to make this venture and the location and this following stamps the enterprise a permanent fixture. Full particulars appear in our advertising columns.

TROPICO METHODIST CHURCH.

On Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21, will occur the "corner-stone laying" of the new Methodist Episcopal church, on Central avenue, and Cypress street. A splendid program has been arranged for the occasion and a cordial welcome is extended to all to attend the exercises.

The California State Fair, which opens at Sacramento, September, has secured as one of the attractions the outlaw broncho, called End Changer, owned by William S. Tevis, Jr., of Bakersfield. This horse has the faculty of sliding out of his saddle if he fails to dislodge a rider after bucking vigorously. He has never been ridden despite the fact that some of the best broncho busters in the country have attempted to subdue him. Prizes will be offered to the broncho buster who can conquer this brute.

CAPTURE THE ENEMY

TROPICO VS. SAN FERNANDO.

The Tropico baseball team were the victors in a one-sided game with the San Fernando team last Sunday at San Fernando. Owing to some misunderstanding, the latter team was not informed regarding the game and for that reason were unprepared, but the true sportsmen of the city gathered the most of the team in and played the game out for the benefit of the hundred-odd Tropico fans who had made the trip.

Charlie Daniels started the ball rolling with a three-bagger in the first, and shortly afterward Denver Markwith repeated the dose. A succession of two-baggers in the second and third innings put the Tropico team on Easy street. The final score was 12 to 2, but the San Fernandos promise faithfully to reverse the decision at the first opportunity.

The Tropico boys are playing good clean ball, and while it is hardly possible that any of them will be sold into the big leagues this season, they always do their utmost to bring home the bacon and furnish good solid enjoyment to the spectators.

Next Sunday they play the Owensmouth team at Tropico and a large attendance is expected. Captain Sisney will in all probability make additional changes in the line-up that will work to the team's benefit.

NEWSPAPER OFFICE GOOD FOR ALL PURPOSES.

The Inglewood News is getting to be all puffed up. Last week they had a real wedding in Brother Green's sanctum sanctorium. A Los Angeles couple were anxious to get married, and being an enterprising couple they naturally thought of the newspaper office. In describing the event the News says:

"The surroundings were romantically unusual for a wedding, to say the least.

"The happy couple stood in front of an altar consisting of the paper cutter and box of scraps, while behind them loomed a bank of decorations composed of the wire stitcher, the punching machine, and the stock cabinet. A bridal bell consisting of a shelf of carbon paper and a ream of chemical manilla hung imminently over them, while draped gracefully on either side were the perforating machine and the Omaha folder. The company of guests stood grouped in front of the Cottrell cylinder press. The linotype machine and the Gordon jobbers were the witnesses, and Judge Monroe used the cash register for a pulpit. Following the ceremony a one-course luncheon consisting of printer's pi was served on stereotype plates, with hand-decorated scraps of printer's towel as favors.

"The names of the happy couple were Chas. B. Hossack and Mrs. Mary G. Blansett. He is a rancher near Perry, on the Redondo line."

They're Coming Back

The families are returning from the various beaches and mountain resorts and will enter into social activity and club work. At a meeting of the board of directors of Tropico Thursday Afternoon Club held September 8th, the program for the first quarter was arranged, including among its speakers Bessie Stoddard, who is chairman of Los Angeles Playground Association; also Mrs. Francis, wife of Superintendent Francis, of Los Angeles schools; she is chairman of the Department of Education of Los Angeles District Federation, and with such speakers and others, it is expected to make the programs very interesting. At the street fair held some time ago the club netted $145, which was very encouraging and every one is entering into the fall work with interest and enthusiasm, and under the leadership of its new officers the new year promises to be worth while to all who attend. The first meeting, in charge of the Hospitality committee, will be held October 2nd at the home of Mrs. A. H. Gaarder on Glendale avenue.

WATER SUPPLY HERE INEXHAUSTIBLE.

That the San Fernando Valley is one huge natural reservoir filled with water, which supply can never be exhausted seems to be the evidence of figures issued recently by the water department of Los Angeles.

Although there has not been an average rainfall in this valley for several seasons and despite the fact that dozens of deep irrigating wells have been sunk and are pumping out thousands of inches daily, figures show that more water than ever is going into the Los Angeles River. The yield of the Los Angeles River at the headquarters of the water system this summer has been 41,500,000 gallons daily as against 38,500,000 gallons for last summer. Besides this the valley has produced this summer a larger yield of unirrigated fruits and surface crops than any like area in Southern California.

ADD FOURTEEN BOOKS TO TROPICO LIBRARY

Fourteen new books, modern novels, juvenile fiction, the complete poetical works of Sir Walter Scott and civic works have been added to the Tropico public library this week.

The American government by Haskins, a volume which describes how things are done in the different departments at Washington, D. C., is proving very popular already. It tells things everyone wants to know.

Gee, but it was dull in Tropico yesterday. Admission Day and Corona Road Races were too much.

Public service corporations would be more popular if they lived up to their name.

Some men never realize that they should stand on their own legs until some one knocks them down.

Huerta has no right to ask Uncle Sam to recognize him when so many of his own people refuse to do so.

Curiously enough, history is much cluttered up with accounts of wars that have been fought, whereas the progress of the race has as a genral thing been better advanced by the wars that were avoided.

The Diggs-Caminetti trial has revealed two things: first, the girl called Marsha Warrington is a brazen depraved hussy, and, second, there are a certain class of women posing as respectable women who enjoy wallowing in licentious filth. Such women are a disgrace to all womanhood.

TRADE IN TROPICO.

Patronize home industry.

It is your home people who make the city. If you do not help build up the business houses of your own town no one else can be expected to do it. Be loyal to your merchants and tradespeople. The majority of them have your interests at heart and every dollar that you pay to them goes into circulation where it will do you the most good.

Supposing you have $5 with which you wish to purchase groceries. You go to the city and spend your $5 and the money never reaches Tropico again. Wealth which makes business possible should be kept at home. When you can get good goods for the same money in Tropico don't go to Los Angeles after them.

You owe this to the city, you owe it to the merchants, but most of all you owe it to yourself and your home.

Did you ever consider the advantages of patronizing your home bank? Did you ever stop and think how much better it would be for you who are living in Tropico if you would carry your account in the Tropico Bank? Very few people these days attempt to do business without the convenience of a bank account. Is it not good business judgment, as well as good patronism, to patronize your local banking institution? It is true there are any number of banking concerns in the city, and these treat you well as long as you keep a handsome balance, but when you reach a stage, which every business does, where you want banking accommodations, you will find that you will have much more difficulty in securing accommodations from the city bank than you would if you had been doing business with your local bank. I saw this illustrated very pointedly last week. While down town I had occasion to visit one of the banks, and while standing waiting to be served a man came in and evidently asked for a loan, and was refused on the ground that the bank officials did not know his standing. The man replied that he had been carrying an account with the bank for over a year. The bank official answered that while that might be true, yet they had never had occasion to investigate, and for that reason was not in a position to make the loan without having additional security. In other words, the transaction was purely a cold-blooded business one. How much better it is where the customer can come in contact with the managing heads of the bank, and where they each learn to know the other. Tropico is exceptionally fortunate in having not only a substantial bank, but a bank conducted by men well versed on local conditions, and men who are always ready to extend every courtesy consistent with safe banking principles. Instead of carrying your deposits in the city, consider the advisability of carrying it in Tropico. There are many reasons why you should do so, and but few, if any, why you should not.

DON'T BE LITTLE.

There are a few—a very few—voters in Tropico expressing themselves as intending to vote against the proposed water bonds because they desire to "get even" with the Board of Trustees. Such an attitude is absolutely silly—worse than childish.

As a matter of fact, the Board of Trustees have no more to do with the proposed bond issue than any other citizen of the city.

This matter was taken up, investigated, and the plan recomended by the Civic Club, nor has any member of the trustees anything to do with the proposed measure directly or indirectly. The matter was presented to them by the Civic Club with the request that the question be submitted to the voters of the city, and for anyone to vote against the measure because he has some personal grievance against some member of the present administration is an exhibition of such assinine stupidity that it is actually pitiful.

If one is satisfied with the present water system, if they are honestly opposed to municipal ownership of public utilities, or believe a better plan than the one proposed may be had, they have a perfect right to vote against the measure, but for you to vote against a measure of such vital public importance because of some personal petty animosity towards some member of the present administration, is absolutely ridiculous.

There is no probability of the present administration holding office forever—$3.00 a week is not such a stupendous sum as would pursuade men to lose the time and to do the work that the Trustees have to do for an indefinite period. At the spring election three of the Trustees will have finished their term, and if you believe they are incompetent and not qualified to serve the city, then is your opportunity to replace them with those who are.

The trouble is, too many people are prone to accept as fact, street rumors. John Jones tell Bill Smith that Jim Wells said that Sam Brown told Silas Young that one of the Trustees winked his left eye one night last month, and Silas Young said he believed that Jim Fishback was going to felonously appropriate a postage stamp to the damage of the city.

The thing to do, if you desire reliable information, is to attend the meetings of the Board. These meetings are open to all. You have a perfect legal right at each and every one of them. I have been attending the meetings of the Board of Trustees for the past seven months, and during this time there has never been a meeting that the presiding officer has not asked the question: "Is there anyone present who desires to address the Board?"

Our present Trustees are not angels; they have not sprouted wings; they have their faults and their failings; nor do they represent all the wisdom of the universe, but in honesty, decency and respectibility they certainly will come up with the average citizen of the community, and all this talk about attempted graft is twaddle.

The Sentinel wants to go on record right here that if there is any graft attempted in Tropico by any official, such attempt will be made public at the earliest possible moment.

If you do not like the proposed water measure, stand up like a man and say so, and contend for what you think is right. Speak out in meeting—don't get around in the back alley on the lonesome side of the barn, talk in a whisper, then enjoin the poor victim who may, unfortunately, have fallen in your clutches, not to repeat what you have said.

If you have any idea about the water system that you want the people to know, the columns of the Sentinel are open to you, and if your article deals with the water subject it will be printed, and printed free of charge.

Acocrding to information sent out by the United States department of agriculture it has been able to secure accurate data on the subject of incomes for farmers of the United States for the first time, and according to this report the average income of the American farmer is $640.40 a year, and it is reasonable to infer, as the report states, that at least one-half of the farmers of this country have even smaller incomes.

HEALTH OFFICER'S TALKS.

No. 9.

"There are so many accidents in these hurrying times!"

No doubt about it. Many times the H. O. has been hurried to attend an accident—more often an automobile has done something or other. In never a case has he found the victims possessed of any materials for first aid other than pocket handkerchiefs and strips torn from underskirts, neither of which articles could be classed as "sanitary."

Injuries as a rule would prove less serious and would heal more kindly and promptly if they could immediately be dressed in a cleanly manner so as to keep the parts from undue exposure to air and dust of the roads. Today's suggestion is, that those who can, especially the drivers of machines, shall carry habitually, for the benefit of themselves and others, the following articles, wrapped in a clean towel and placed in a dust proof box.

Half dozen assorted gauze bandages.

Carton of five yards sterile gauze.

Carton of four ounces absorbent cotton.

Few pieces thin board for splints.

One dozen safety pins.

Pair scissors.

Four ounce bottle some antiseptic solution labeled "Poison."

Four ounce bottle of good whiskey.

The advantages secured by access to such a "prize-package" are self-evident. The presence of the last named article will, in addition to its medicinal virtues, serve to remind one at all times, to save the package with him.

W. J. McBratney & Bros., with headquarters at Monrovia, announce in this issue the opening of a branch store in Glendale. They have leased the room at 337 South Brand Blvd., and will carry a complete line of Irish linen, featuring guaranteed qualities at lowest prices. The stock includes table linens, dress linens, art linens, embroidered linens, handkerchiefs, towels, bedspreads, sheets, and pillow cases. The art embroidery department deserves more than passing mention. McBratney Bros. are well known in Southern California and lovers of fine embroidery come from all cities to Monrovia to purchase the latest ideas, and now with a branch store in Glendale, customers will be handled with greater facility.

At the home of Miss Blanche Shea on South Brand Blvd., a surprise "linen shower" was given for Miss Elise Vance on last Friday. Miss Vance, who is one of our most popular young ladies, is the bride-elect of Mr. Richard Tiffany. Miss Shea was assisted in entertaining by Mmes. Fred Spears, Glen Craig, and Miss Katherine Hobbs. The shower, consisting of handsome pieces of drawn work, embroidered linens, etc., were presented to Miss Vance in a huge flower basket. Refreshing ices and cakes were served and the afternoon was spent in social chitchat.

Miss L. Lillian Ellias has returned to Roble Hall, Stanford University, Palo Alto.

reading. Under this ordinance it shall be unlawful for any person to sell milk within the city limits without first having obtained from the health officer a permit. All dairies, stables and milk houses, whether in or without the city and supplying milk to the inhabitants of the city, shall be subjected to the inspection of the city health officer, or anyone appointed by him; all groceries or storekeepers offering milk for sale shall at all times keep the names and the number of the permit of the dairyman from whom milk is obtained, posted in a conspicuous place; all milk wagons shall have the name of the owner, and the number of the wagon license printed on the wagon in letters or figures not less than one inch; no milk shall be sold in the city limits to which water or preservatives or any foreign substance has been added; milk containing more than 85% water shall not be permitted to be sold in the city, unless such milk is represented at the time of being delivered as being skimmed milk.

The following demands were allowed and warrants ordered drawn for same:

C. B. Loomis	$25.00
C. L. Jennings	50.00
First National Bank	175.00

An important ordinance at the instigation of the health officer was submitted for consideration of the Board of Trustees. This ordinance is the regulating of the number of animals and fowls to be kept within the city limits. It provides that only two horses, mules or draft animals; only one cow or two goats, and only 25 chickens; 50 rabbits or Belgian hares; one pair geese and 12 ducks, may be kept on any 50x150 foot lot within the city limits. It also provides that no burros, guinea hens, hogs or peacocks shall be permitted within the city limits on any size lot.

It provides that no goats, horses, mules, cows or poultry shall be kept within 25 feet of any window or bedroom or any door of any residence within the city.

Recognizing the importance of this ordinance, and not wishing to work a hardship on any citizen, the Board of Trustees after discussing same, decided to hold the ordinance over until September 18th, at which time all those interested might appear before the board and offer suggestions.

There is no question but what an ordinance covering these features is needed in the city. How drastic such an ordinance should be made is a question open for discussion and consideration. There are within the city limits people making their living from poultry; others are making their living from teaming, and these are especially interested in this ordinance, and it is for the purpose of giving these people an opportunity to be heard that the ordinance was laid over until Thursday the 18th, at which time each citizen having an interest in this ordinance is requested to be present.

Mrs. T. C. Rice-Wray states that she is not to be principal in charge of the Tropico-Glendale branch school of the Von Stein Musical Academy, but that the Academy is to use her residence as the Tropico headquarters, and that she will be connected with the business department of same in this field. Mrs. Rice-Wray says that competent teachers will be sent out from the Academy as instructors.

The league game between Van Nuys and Glendale last Saturday at Van Nuys was won by the Van Nuys team in a score of 12 to 9.

HAPPENINGS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Hiliman, 305 Paloma Ave., Sept. 9, a son, 8½ pounds. Mother and son are doing fine.

Miss Fannie Sutherland and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dehnel, now of Clairmont, visited relatives in Tropico the first part of the week.

Mr. Henry G. Pettit is taking a week's vacation, and is spending the time on Santa Cruz island.

Mrs. Irving H. Oliver, who has been visiting the past two weeks in the Cold Water Canyon, in the Santa Monica mountains, returned Sunday.

Born on Thursday, the 4th, to Mrs. Jas. T. Cawthorne, Gardena avenue, twins, an 8½ pound boy and a 7¾ pound girl. All are doing well at the Good Samaritan Hospital.

On September 2d the cotton reporting board of the United States department estimated that the cotton crop was 68% normal, as compared with 74% of August last year.

The California Land Show and Home Industry Exhibition, which is to be held in San Francisco, deserves to make a success of the project, for they are making big efforts to have this a representative show.

The Bridge Whist Club was entertained last Tuesday by Mrs. C. A. Barker, the out-of-town guests being Miss Irene Sanford of Boston, Miss Fleming of Kansas, Mrs. Sheppard of Iowa, Mrs. Starker of Michigan and Mrs. Lewis of Glendale.

Mr. H. S. Kneedler of Eldora, Iowa, editor of the Hardin County Gazette, left Eldora Wednesday, September 3d, by auto for Tropico. Mr. Kneedler is accompanied by his wife and four children, and will visit Mrs. C. D. Ingraham of 321 North Brand.

J. L. Fishback and F. R. Sinclair left Saturday morning for Murrieta Springs, at which place they spent a couple of days hunting, returning via Corona, taking in the races, arriving in Tropico Tuesday evening. S. E. Brown held down the city hall during Mr. Fishback's absence.

Mrs. Caspar Maag, of Burbank, is visiting her grand-daughter, Mrs. G. P. Putman, on Gardena avenue. Mrs. Maag is 82 years old, and is one of the old settlers of the San Fernando valley, and has seen many changes in this community since coming here a number of years ago.

Miss Agnes Walsh, of Topeka, Kansas, whose father is general baggage master of the Santa Fe system, and who has been spending the last three months visiting the different points along the coast, spent Monday in Tropico visiting old Topeka friends, the Wayland Chapmans.

Mr. E. P. Peugeot, celebrated his 71st birthday at his home at 434 Wilinson court Monday. Mr. Peugeot was the recipient of a number of presents from his family and friends. Mr. Peugeot says he may be a septuagenarian, but he can do as much work as any twenty-one year old kid in the country.

Seymour Smith, who has been spending the past two weeks at Hermosa Beach in company with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, has developed into quite a fisherman. Last Thursday he caught 124 mackerel, and on Friday 90. "The Smiths" are having a fine time and enjoying themselves very much.

Ralph Robinson, the plumber, is now nicely situated in his new quarters at Palmer and Brand. The building was lately moved from Park and Brand and remodeled to permit proper accommodations for his rapidly increasing business. Besides his regular display of plumbing fixtures, Mr. Robinson has added a line of sporting goods, guns and ammunition.

J. M. Farvilly, who has been connected with Foreman & Clark of Los Angeles, in the capacity of head tailor for the last three years, has severed his connection and opened a first-class tailor shop in the room formerly occupied by C. S. Hunter. Mr. Farvilly has come to stay and will cater to wearers of better clothes at moderate prices. A general repair and alteration department will be maintained along with the cleaning and pressing.

Venice is arranging to have a great "Fathers' Day" celebration on the first Sunday in October, the 5th. "Father" is to be honored from every section. Invitations have been sent broadcast and in nearly every instance the spirit of co-operation is evident. The organization headed by Abbot Kinney as President is unanimous in the belief that father in the past has been neglected. "Mother's Day" is celebrated as is "Children's Day," but father has been allowed to simply class with "among those present."

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Merrill, with their guest, Miss Margaret Merrill, of St. John, Michigan, who have been spending some time in Southern California, and are now visiting Mrs. Wm. Harvey, Jr., of Tropico avenue, returned this week from Venice, at which place they have spent some time. While there Miss Margaret Merrill had the honor, while deep sea fishing, of catching the largest yellow-tail that has been caught this season by any lady.

In Siskiyou county, California, they are putting in, what is said, to be the largest private irrigation pump in the west. This plant is said, when completed, to irrigate ten thousand acres, and a water supply sufficient to care for fifty thousand acres. The water is obtained from artesian wells fed by the melted snows of Mt. Shasta, then raised over 100 feet and carried to the land to be irrigated through canals that are in many places blasted through solid lava rock.

The Department of Agriculture, in connection with the Department of the Interior, is endeavoring to encourage the installation of power plants at water power sites in National Forests, so that the elctric energy may be used by private concerns, especially for pumping purposes. A recent contract entered into in Idaho along this line contains a provision that the maximum charge by the company to the private consumer shall not exceed 6 cents per kilomat hour.

A summary statement of receipts from all the national forests for the fiscal year, July 1st, 1912, to June 30th, 1913, has been issued by the National Forest Service, and shows that the total receipts from the National Forests amount to $2,391,920.85. Of this amount Arizona and New Mexico get $45,534.04, which goes to the credit of the school funds of these two states. California receives $298,166.21.

At the meeting of the Elks Lodge Monday night the committee on building reported. After discussing the report from every standpoint it was finally decided to proceed with the incorporation of the building company, and then secure $2,500 subscription to the building stock at once, and this $2500 to be used in making the first payment on property at the corner of Sixth and Brand, 200x150, which can be had at a price of $5000.

The C. and S. Cafeteria opened its doors at 335 Brand Blvd., this week, and in doing so will add a necessity to Glendale, and also help to make that city more metropolitan. The old-style service in a restaurant is fast going out of date with the busy business man and a hurried lunch and possible indigestion makes the cafeteria and dairy lunch inevitable. The place carries all the accessories needed for prompt and continuous service.

There has been some inquiry at the Sentinel office as to what has been done by the Trustees of the Tropico Grammar School in regard to purchasing a new school site for which bonds were voted. So far nothing has been done. The bonds as yet have not been sold. Mr. Jas. Rich, one of the Trustees, has been out of the city for a couple of months, and while nothing can be done until the bonds are disposed of, it is understood the opinion of Mrs. Barker and Mr. Carmack is that two school buildings should be provided; one on the east side, and the other in the northwest.

BUSINESS COLLEGE ITEMS.

National Business College.

Miss Grace Baumbartel of Anaheim, Cal., enrolled this week for a course in shorthand.

Miss Zu Gray entered Wednesday for a short course in stenography.

Mr. Bert Kelly, who is employed at the Postoffice, began a course in our night school this week to prepare for promotion in the government employ. This school makes a specialty of civil service positions.

Miss Ethel Ruggles of Santa Paula, Cal., came to Los Angeles last week to select a school in which to take a shorthand course, and after visiting several local business colleges, enrolled in this school.

Every graduate of this school receives a good position as soon as qualified.

Miss Louise Barker, who graduated at the National last year, now has a good position in Pasadena at $17.50 per week.

September enrollments are now active, and the majority of those now attending are taking the combined course of shorthand and bookkeeping. Full information regarding courses and tuition rates may be had by calling or writing. Address all communications to National Business College, Los Angeles, Cal.

Orange County Business College.

Mr. Kenneth Morrison was sent by the college Monday to a position as stenographer and bookkeeper with the Los Alamitos Sugar Co.

Mr. Eldon McCallister mailed in his check in advance from Tulare last week to pay for a scholarship in the commercial department, beginning as soon as he can get some one to take his place in the store where he is now employed.

Mr. Bowen, expert demonstrator of the Stenotype, spent Wednesday in the school enthusing those who are taking Stenotypy instead of shorthand.

Fall enrollments are now active and a catalogue with full particulars of this school may be had free by addressing J. W. McCormac, president, or calling at the college office.

WHY SOME DREAMS ARE REALLY HEALTHFUL

"Good night and pleasant dreams" has a deeper significance than most of us realize. In wishing a friend pleasant dreams we are wishing them good health. A sleep with pleasant dreams is more beneficial than a dreamless sleep.

A night of fairly good slumber interspersed with a few dreams of a decidedly pleasant nature is really refreshing and in being restful is healthful.

To awake after a night in which you have experienced pleasant dreams is to feel bright and active and cheerful. Dreams that give wholesome and happy emotions seem to leave the sleeper with fresh vigor and with an eagerness for the day's work.

Sleep, releasing the brake on reason, allows our sleeping mind to manipulate the stronger thoughts which occupy our brain during the waking hours.

If, however, the thoughts or wishes of the dreamer, when awake, were strong enough, his dream is quite likely to be the same.

It is not difficult to make a logical reasoning from this to the effect that to have our dearest wishes fulfilled in our dreams is really beneficial. For during the dreaming the effect upon the mind, and from the mind to the body, for all conditions of the mind affect the body, is exactly the same as though we were awake and our wish came true. It makes us happy and to be happy is one of the greatest laws of health.

Good dreams leave us happy and refreshed.

Befors buyisg a Player-Piano

The combination of the famous Ludwig piano and the pioneer and premier of all the players, the Angelus, has met with instantaneous success.

Carload after carload has found its way into the homes of those music-loving people who want a known article at a moderate price.

Ludwig Quality — The Ludwig is high grade throughout, combining a deep, full tone with that staunch durability so essential in a piano to be used with a player. It can be had in rich mahogany or Circassian walnut.

Angelus Superiority — The Angelus you must see to realize how unlike any other player it is; no more mechanical than the bow of a violin; makes the piano "eat out of your hand," do everything in fact except talk.

The Mel-o-dant — The Mel-o-dant subdues the accompaniment and accents the melody notes. No player piano without this device will interest or satisfy any real lover of good music after the brief time it takes for the novelty to wear off.

Phrasing Lever — The Phrasing Table, rightfully called the "heart of the Angelus," on which one's finger rests, subconsciously executes your interpretation whether inspired or fanciful. To operate any "tempo lever" to an Angelus owner is drudgery, dull and uninteresting.

Diaphragm Pneumatics — The Diaphragm Pneumatics will outwear any other type, being made of leather instead of rubberized cloth and operating without folds or corners.

No other player has these features—insist upon them if you want lasting pleasure in your purchase and the minimum depreciation.
